

JOSAI INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY

BULLETIN

Faculty of International Humanities

CONTENTS

〈Research Note〉
Digital Economy Polarized under COVID CRISIS	Mie Yoshioka	1
〈Research Reports〉
Development of the Theory of Nouns and Pronouns in W. G. Aston's A Short Grammar of the Japanese Spoken Language :
A Comparison of the First and Second Editions	Tomohiko Yoshida	19
Linguistic Coding Differences in University, First-year, English as a Foreign Language Learners	Brett Collins, Miyuki Hatori	35
The Rationale for a Content-Based Textbook for Pharmacy Students: A Qualitative Study	Steven Silsbee	43
A Report of Japanese Proficiency in Japanese University Students	Miyuki Hatori, Brett Collins	55
Questionnaire Analysis of Learning Effects and Problems During Online English Classes:
Focusing on the Second, Third, and Fourth-year Students in Speaking Classes	Jiro Watanabe	67
A Study of the Structure of 'Military Invasion for Counterattacking Terrorist Groups into Their Host Country':
With a Focus on Jus ad Bellum	Wataru Kondo	85
Evaluating Educational Software and How It Assists Early Child Development and Learning	Benjamin Adkins, Jamie Reay	101
〈Other (Book Review)〉
How Should Japanese Foreign Policy of International Cooperation Have Been during the Inter-War Period?: SAKO Susumu, Unfinished Economic Diplomacy :
The Collapse of SHIDEHARA Kijuro's Foreign Policy of International Cooperation	Takenosuke Mishima	115
From "One World" to "Multipolar World":
SAKO Susumu, International Politics in Transition	Takenosuke Mishima	125
〈Research Articles〉
The Background of the Legend of Akahito in the Yamabe district, Kazusa Province: From the Perspective of Local History and Field Materials	Miyako Okada	(1)
On Film and the Works of Tanizaki Junichiro (1)	Watanabe Taku	(21)

JOSAI INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY